

PINK FLOYD - giants of Progressive- and Art-Rock, constructors of great magic soundbuildings of unique musical beauty, ceremony masters of bombastic live-shows...
... a monolith in the stream of rock history.

Superlatives are not sufficient enough to describe and honour the work of David Gilmour, Roger Waters, Rick Wright and Nick Mason. PINK FLOYD are one of the greatest bands on earth and have already taken their place in the eternal hall of fame.

To copy the complex and extensive work of PINK FLOYD seems to be an impossible mission. This may be a reason for the fact, that there are only a few bands worldwide, which take this challenge: echoes inspire their audience with an almost perfect show of the works of PINK FLOYD. A trip to the Dark Side Of The Moon, from Ummagumma to Meddle, Animals, Wish You Were Here and The Wall, up to the post-Waters-era. And they also are playing songs, which haven't been heard by the originals for a very long time.

echoes are performing the music of PINK FLOYD in a stunning authentic and magic way. And though the bands show includes great light-effects, projections and pyro-effects, the music is still the most important thing. They proved their quality in spectacular concerts throughout Europe, leaving an astonished and overwhelmed audience behind.

Extraordinary for a tribute band: In summer 2007 echoes were invited to the "Night Of The Prog"-Festival on the legendary "Loreley" amphitheatre in Germany, where they performed with acts like Asia, Jethro Tull and others.

So the audience can look forward to a very special live-event in real "floydian" ambience - "Wish You Were (T)Here"!
